Madison approves new ward bounds

Council votes 6-1 in favor of new plan lines

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

New ward boundaries were approved by the Madison City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

The council voted 6-1 in favor of the new plan, with 4th

Ward Alderman Norris Horton voting no. Second

Ward Alderman Ted Ostrenga was absent.

The new wards are necessary because of the annexation of the East Madison and Cloverleaf areas. The issue had been the subject of several committee and council meetings. The approved plan, known as Alternate 4, had been proposed by 4th Ward Alderman Roshelle Williams-Gardner. It puts the recently annexed East Madison and Cloverleaf areas, as well as Gateway International Raceway and nearby properties, into the 3rd Ward.

The 4th Ward includes all of West Madison, the Chouteau Island area, residential areas southwest of Second Street and McCambridge and the portion of Eagle Park Acres located in the city.

The plan had been given tentative approval at a special council meeting last week, and an ordinance formally adopting the plan was approved Tuesday.

Previous plans that would have included part of Cloverleaf in the 4th Ward had been objected to by Horton and Williams-Gardner because they would have diluted the predominantly black 4th Ward, possibly making it difficult for a black alderman to be elected.

Horton had been the most vocal opponent of the plan. He had proposed a plan that

Board to decide on zone

Meeting to consider Commerce Center expansion

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

An ordinance allowing the expansion of the Gateway Commerce Center's enterprise zone will be among items considered at a special meeting of the Pontoon Beach Village Board tonight.

The ordinance would expand the zone to include about 50 acres of the Lakeview Commerce Center at the intersection of Illinois 111 and New Poag Road.

The expansion must be approved by the city of Edwardsville, village of Pontoon Beach and the Madison County Board.

The village's meeting had originally been scheduled for Monday, but was delayed to make changes in the ordinance, according to Village Attorney Eric Evans. He said owners of the property to be included in the expansion ed zone have a pre-annexation agreement with Edwardsville, so the expansion would not directly benefit the village, but Edwardsville would be a "good neighbor."

The last expansion of the enterprise zone was granted in September 1993, when a 25-acre business-commercial park in Pontoon Beach was included in the 2.7-square-mile zone.

City fire department upgrades ambulance

EMS vehicle offers advanced life support

By Mike Heil
Staff writer

The Granite City Fire Department has upgraded one of its ambulances and open air basic life support to advanced life support, according to Granite City Fire Chief Keith Talley.

"When the ALS arrives, patients will be provided with much better life-support services," Talley said. "The ambulance will greatly benefit the community."

The ALS ambulance will serve as a stand-by ambulance and will only be used when the department's other two BLS ambulances are on call. The ALS is manned by a paramedic and an EMS specialist, both of whom will be able to hook up heart monitors for defibrillation, start IVs, administer medications and open air passages. A BLS ambulance, Talley said, would not have the equipment for emergency personnel to perform those procedures.

The ambulance was upgraded at a cost of a little more than $15,000. If not for the efforts of EMS coordinator Tony Boulech at St. Elizabeth Medical Center,

EMS medical director Ray Debarbara at St. Elizabeth

Practice 'slotting' needs some review

Grocery store paybacks costing consumers millions

By U.S. Sen. Kit Bond

There is a business practice in the grocery industry known as "slotting," which you may not have heard about, but it may be driving up the price of your groceries and limiting your choices at the grocery store. Slotting is legal in some circumstances, illegal in other circumstances. The practice has developed more or less unchecked by the federal government and for the last 20 to 30 years - it appears, at least in some instances, to have taken a very wrong turn.

The term "slotting" refers to a payment or fee paid by a manufacturer to simply to ensure placement of its products on store shelves. It often amounts to tens of thousands of dollars per product and per store in many cities. Many slotting "deals" also require the manufacturer to commit to costly advertising campaigns to raise consumer recognition of new products before they arrive on grocers'

Slotting fees are estimated to amount to as much as $9 billion annually that changes hands in private, unwritten deals between grocery retailers and food and consumer goods manufacturers.

When large chain retailers demand up-front slotting payments, small-business manufacturers are often excluded from the shelves simply because they cannot afford the excessive payments sought by some retailers. When slotting fees are paid, the quality of the product is often ignored. And the product's future sales depend solely on whether the small business pays the "slotting allowance."

Not only do up-front slotting fees act as a barrier to prevent small businesses from ever getting their products sold, but existing products are being forced off the shelves by large dominant manufacturers simply because the dominant manufacturer can pay to exclude or remove their competition from the store.

Recently, the United States Senate Small Business Committee, which I chair, conducted an investigation into the practice of slotting.

It has not been easy to learn about the specifics of the practice of slotting allowances. It is a practice cloaked in secrecy. Some of the individual small business owners that we spoke to during the course of this examination made the following comments: "One food broker recommended to a small business that he 'offer to paint the retail buyer's house for free' as a means of gaining favor for his product. Another small business owner revealed that 'I know for a fact that my competition is paying the lease on the buyer's BMW'."

Often, nothing is in writing between the manufacturer and the retailer, and the amount of money paid in slotting fees is usually known only to the supermarkets, their brokers and the distributors.

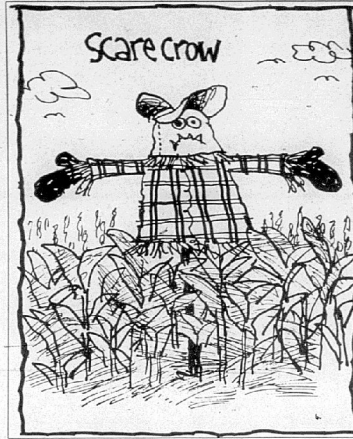

The committee staff completed detailed interviews of more than 70 small businesses representing a broad spectrum of small manufacturers and all expressed considerable fear of retribution from chain retailers.

At a recent hearing held to highlight the practice of slotting, two of the witnesses who testified agreed to share their stories only after being granted complete anonymity for the hearing.

Both testified behind a protective screen and used a scrambling device to conceal their voices.

The Small Business Committee is examining several proposals to combat these slotting practices that harm small manufacturers. We will also request that the Federal Trade Commission more aggressively investigate and prosecute unlawful slotting practices.

For more information on the U.S. Senate or Bond, call the Senate Infoline at (202) 224-0994. Kit Bond is a U.S. Senator from Missouri.

Parenting like a bad hair day?

You were up with the kids four times during the night. Now you're rushing about the house preparing to depart when your two-and-half-year-old cries out from the bathroom that she's had an "accident."

Is parenting sometimes like a bad hair day? Life should be that simple! When you're a parent, your own hair is the least of your worries. So many things can go wrong that you seemingly have no control over.

It's early and things are not going well. Take time to regroup! Negative moods that are not addressed often result in further negative experiences during the day.

Sit down and take three deep breaths and exhale very slowly. You have been racing around all morning and you are probably still moving at high speed. Consider the following strategies to get your day back on track:

Stop mentally berating yourself for the happenings of the morning. Everyone has bad days. Step back and find humor in your situation.

Take a short mental vacation. Remember one of your "peak parent" moments (e.g. giggling at the beach, dancing in the living room, cuddling at bedtime). Or close your eyes and imagine you are relaxing on the beach, next to a mountain stream or at your favorite vacation spot.

Evaluate the remainder of your day. Simplify as much as possible. Eliminate bothersome tasks and focus, if possible, on completing a task that will give you a sense of accomplishment and control.

Go for a 10-minute walk. Eat a healthy lunch. Skipping lunch because you're behind will only make your mood and your problem-solving ability worse.

Find a way to make someone else happy. Doing for others has an amazing impact on our own sense of personal satisfaction.

Have a good laugh. Pull out the latest comic page from the newspaper, look at a joke book or visit a co-worker who is known for a sense of humor.

Avoid, as much as possible, negative people who will bring you down. Instead seek out people with a positive outlook.

Upon arriving home, focus your attention on relaxing and reconnecting with your family. Have some fun, and then go to bed and dream of a better day.

Parking changes considered

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The Madison City Council may be considering changing parking regulations along Madison Avenue sometime in the near future. At the request of Madison Police Chief Steve Skoklo, the Council's Legislative Committee will consider changing the one-hour parking limit on Madison Avenue.

The limits are in place so business owners can have a place for customers to park, but Skoklo said the time limit forces the police to write tickets at night to residents who have no off-street parking.

"Quite a few people were irate about it," he said of tickets written last week. "Something needs to be done to make it fair to everybody. It's something the aldermen need to look at."

One suggestion was to limit parking to one hour during normal business hours but lift the restrictions at night. The matter was referred to the Legislative Committee.

In another police matter, the council approved spending $2,000 to match a U.S. Department of Justice grant for body armor for police officers.

Skoklo said the grant and the city's matching portion will pay for about nine vests. "We originally applied for 11, but they didn't fund us the full amount," he said.

Skoklo added that they might be able to receive additional funding if there is federal money available.

Coolidge wins junior high games

Yates said "We couldn't put it in. So it went to a third overtime."

Coolidge went first and scored when fullback Darren Askew bulled in from one yard out on fourth-and-1. But the conversion failed, and the Gators had a chance to upend their undefeated arch-rival.

Coolidge stacked the line and stopped Grigsby on fourth-and-5 to secure the victory.

"That was the best football game I have ever seen," Grigsby assistant coach Rick Wickham said. "The kids all played their hearts out in that game. (Quarterback) David Wykoff, (linebacker) Bobby Meyer, (tight end) Evan Kerivan and others played just great."

"They have a city trophy that they give to the winner of this game," Yates said. "They just started that seven or eight years ago. But that is a neat thing that the kids can play for, aside from the conference championship. If we had lost that game, I think we would have had with Altam. It was a lot riding on that game for us -- the conference championship, an undefeated season, city championship."

"They have worked hard all season, and that was a big game for them."

onship, an undefeated season, city championship."

The victory clinched the Madison County Junior High Conference championship for the Warriors. Coolidge raised its record to 6-0, finishing undefeated for the second straight season.

After the game, Granite City High School coach Nick Petrillo held a meeting with both teams. He told the eighth-graders that they were all going to be on one team next year and that he was looking forward to working with the combination.

But for the rest of the school year, Coolidge owns the city's bragging rights. "We have had a couple of very good groups of kids come through here in the last few years," Yates said. "It makes you look good to go undefeated."

Coolidge dominates

The seventh-grade football team had less trouble with their cross-town rival than the boys.

Though the eighth-graders had to go to triple overtime to top the Gators, the younger Warriors were able to take command from the beginning and beat Grigsby 38-8.

"It was a tremendous win for us," Coolidge seventh-grade coach Brian Harshany said. "The guys played hard. They have worked hard all season, and that was a big game for them. They were all fired up, had the pep assembly right before the game, and they were excited. They were ready to play, and they wanted to win real bad. They did a great job on the field."

"It is a big rivalry," Grigsby seventh-grade coach Rick Wickham said. "It is a lot of fun, we have a lot of attendance, and the kids always get up for the game. The football players get their recognition from the rest of the school. It's a big day."

Both head coaches were reluctant to dish out any individual kudos though some names did stick out.

"I got a strong performance out of (quarterback) Patrick Drenner and running backs Steven Jakal, Derek Horvath, T.J. Nance, and (defender) Mike Bone," Wickham said. "But all the guys did a great job. With a performance like that, we can really look forward to next year."

"Football is a team effort," Harshany said. "At running back, Tim Childers doesn't run touchdowns unless our line makes blocks for him. It was just a great team effort all around. Alex Kwiatkowski, our quarterback, Mike Trees, Greg Lofink. The names could go on and on. They all had a great game."

The Warriors ended the seventh-grade season 5-0.

Bethalto and Triad match.

"We were seeded 15th, so we have to play the No. 2 school," Layton said. "When you first look at that you think, 'Uh oh, this is tough.' But as I told the girls, any team is beatable on any given day. Springfield might be walking in there thinking it is going to be easy to beat us, but we are not. We are going in thinking that we are going to take care of business and beat them. We have to go in with that attitude that we can beat anybody, and we will have that attitude."

"We come from an extremely strong conference, with teams like Belleville East and Belleville West, whereas Springfield may or may not have as strong of competition. When we can play extremely well against Belleville East, and hang in there with Triad and O'Fallon, as we did in games earlier in the season, we can stay with Springfield. We'll have to wait to see what happens."

runners fighting for seven spots on varsity," Haefner said. "Any coach likes to be in that position."

The cross-country postseason gets under way this weekend.

"We are looking forward to regionals this Saturday," Haefner said. "Kevin rested over the weekend and took a lot of fluids. We monitored his progress, and he ran a good practice on Monday. He has shown us that he is ready to go."

"We hope that Josh can get well in time and run this weekend. If he can't, we will have a time trial to decide which of the nine guys will take his spot."

"Even if he can run, we will have to determine who we will take to regionals. There are four runners up for the sixth and seventh spots. It is good that the team is that strong. We plan to get out of regionals and head for sectionals the following weekend."

Zarzecki points to unselfish attitude

Junior leads offensive attack for Collinsville

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Collinsville High leading scorer Lee Zarzecki possesses the talent many forwards would love to have - skill, speed and a willingness to give up the ball.

Zarzecki is one of the more difficult forwards in the metro area to defend. Teams have devised ways of stopping the junior, who has nine goals on the season. However, when teams elect to double- or even triple-team Zarzecki, he loves to draw the defenders toward him before sending the ball to a teammate for an easy assist.

He has recorded eight assists on the season.

"We are unselfish. It doesn't matter who puts the ball in the net as long as someone does," Zarzecki said. "That is how we are going to win."

"We are a very blue-collar team. We know what we want, and we don't stop until we get there. We like playing soccer and not just long ball."

Zarzecki has notched some beautiful goals this season, but he admits some of the passes he has dishd off that became goals for others were even better.

"Like the goal against O'Fallon and the goal that (Nathan) Doherty scored against Alton. That gave me goosebumps," said Zarzecki, who fed Doherty with a long throw ball to the box that Doherty blasted into the back of the net. "We build up the play and then end up getting something out of it. It is not bad to have a breakaway every now and then, but when you play soccer, getting the ball in the net, that is what I love."

"That is what I live for - when everything is on and you're playing right, and you are keeping your mistakes down to a minimum, that is what I live for. That is why I play this game."

Collinsville coach Ron Rowden has quickly become a fan of Zarzecki, who earned a varsity letter as a sophomore last year.

"He is a junior and is already multi-faceted with good technique," Rowden said. "He has good vision and a good presence in the box to finish." Another area of Zarzecki's game that is overlooked is his desire to learn. Zarzecki likes to continually push himself to get better.

"Every coach I have had has contributed to my success," Zarzecki said. "Pete Hayes, (Chris) Digrolamo and my club coach now, Dale Schilly."

"The biggest thing is I really didn't have a break this summer. I was involved with ODP, (Olympic Development Program) and our club team went to Holland, so we were training for that trip. You just have to keep yourself focused. You cannot get burned out."

Weddings-Engagements

Susan J. McConnell

McConnell-Faison

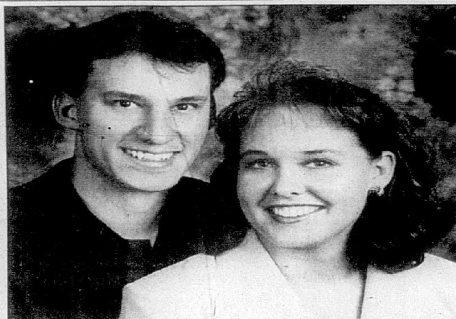

Susan J. McConnell and C. Mark Faison were married Oct. 2 at Wake Union Baptist Church in Wake Forest, N.C., by the Rev. Les Burleson.

The bride is the daughter of Gary and Rita McConnell of Durham, N.C., formerly of Granite City. She graduated from North Carolina State University and is employed by GTE Wireless as an administrator of service operations.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ogburn and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Faison of Wake Forest, N.C. He graduated from ECPI Technical Institute and is employed by Nextel Communications as a service technician. Avery Hilliard Ward attended her friend as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Dana Ray, sister of the groom; Elizabeth Pellock of Edwardsville, and Carol Jeanne McConnell of Bowie, Md.

Gilbert Faison attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Jay Ray of Wake Forest, N.C.; Michael McConnell of San Diego, Calif.; and Ben Ward of Butner, N.C. The flower girl was Jenna Ray of Wake Forest, N.C. The guest book registrars were Jennifer Harshany of Granite City, and Betty Walters of Raleigh, N.C.

Stephanie Kult and Russell Boyer

Kult-Boyer

Stephanie Kult, the daughter of Bob and Judy Kult of Granite City, and Russell Boyer, the son of Bernadette Boyer of Granite City, have announced their engagement.

Kult is a 1993 graduate of Granite City High School in Granite City and a 1997 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is a special education teacher in the Granite City School District.

Boyer is a 1992 graduate of Granite City High School. He is a maintenance technician for Insignia/ESG in St. Louis.

They are planning a Nov. 20, 1999, wedding.

Granite City Park District to hold events

The Granite City Park District will have two major events taking place in the next few days.

The Park District is announcing a special ID card session from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday. The cost of a Park District ID is $5 and is good for three years.

ID card holders get discounts on Park District programs and sponsored events. Proof of residency is required; accepted forms of proof include a voter registration card or utility bill.

The Wilson Park Ice Rink will also open for the 1999-2000 season with a special Halloween costume party at 8 p.m. Oct. 30. Participants are invited to attend dressed in Halloween costumes.

For more information on these or any other Granite City Park District activities, please call the Wilson Park Office at 677-3059.

Open house day at the Treehouse Wildlife Center

Rod Ferre, a volunteer at the Treehouse Wildlife Sanctuary, explains why this Great Horned Owl cannot live in the wild and is now dependent on the sanctuary.

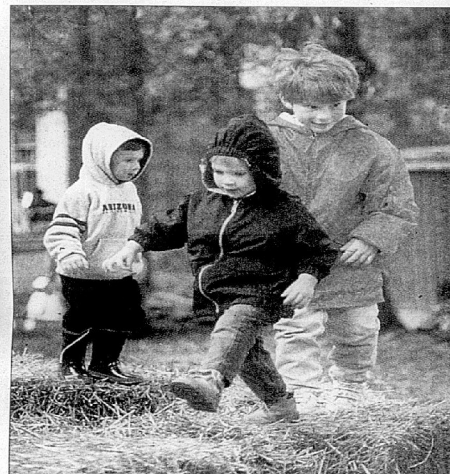

Volunteer Gary Lamsargis holds up a screech owl.

Tim Stephenson

The Treehouse Wildlife Center is a nonprofit volunteer organization dedicated to the preservation of native American wildlife. It is the largest such preservation in the U.S. staffed exclusively by volunteers. Treehouse operates under permits from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Illinois Department of Natural Resources and the Illinois Endangered Species Board, but does not receive any government funding. It was started in 1979 to care for orphaned and injured wildlife. Located on 19 acres of land near Alton, it includes several buildings and 23 outdoor cages which serve as temporary homes for wildlife. It serves a seven-county area, including Madison and St. Clair. The open house serves as an educational event and fund-raiser. For information about the center, call 372-8092.

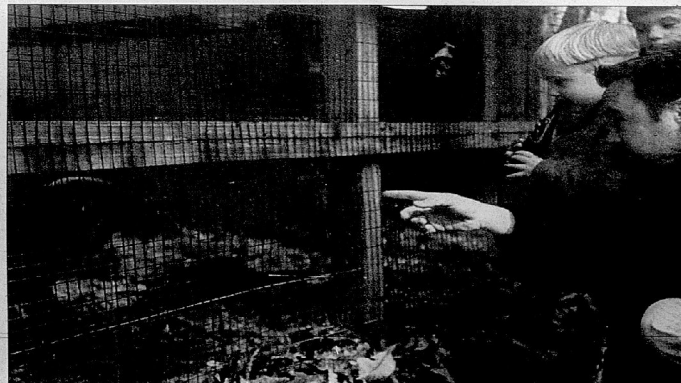

Thomas Murphy, age 2, leads his older sister Kaitlyn, 5, and friend Austin Raoscher, 3, around a stack of hay bails.

As part of a fund-raiser, the sanctuary sold gift baskets.

Eric and Carol Gorden listen to volunteer Deana Browne as she holds up Shannon, a Harris hawk.

Jim Price of Alton points out a fox to his sons, Colman, 3, and Stetson, age 5.

Test your horror film knowledge

By Kevin Carbery
Correspondent

In a world of war, exotic diseases and mass murderers, it is not easy to scare people with a movie.

Yet it is Halloween time again and people have been raiding the video stores for the last several weeks looking for anything that might frighten them. My guess is that most thrill seekers are disappointed with what they end up popping into their VCRs.

The reason for this is video renters keep making the mistake of looking for only recent releases. Believe me, there is much more out there than Brendan Fraser's version of "The Mummy," which is not a bad flick, but not as good as Boris Karloff's "The Mummy" from 1932.

If you enjoy Count Dracula films, you would be much better off finding the 1922 German picture "Nosferatu" or, even better, the 1931 Hollywood classic "Dracula" with Bela Lugosi than you would to get something made in the last 20 years. The older films are much scarier.

The "Godzilla" released in 1998 was an outright embarrassment. Sure, the special effects were better than anything you could see in the Japanese monster pictures of the 1950s and 1960s, but those had a camp value to them that the recent one was sorely lacking.

I believe the main difference between the earlier horror movies and the more recent ones is that modern directors have elaborate special effects at their disposal. Instead of using these tools to make better films, the directors end up sacrificing clever storytelling for the special effects. It is not a good trade-off.

For this week's quiz, the topic is horror films.

1. Who was the female lead in the 1933 classic version of "King Kong"?

Metro East offers medley of costume options

By Wade Alberty
Staff writer

As we enter this season of ghouls and goblins, one thing enters the mind of the young and old alike, "What am I going to be for Halloween?"

The Metro East offers many great stores to help you decide what to be and to help you find the perfect costume or accessories you need for this Halloween.

Johnnie Brock's Dungeon at 10899 Lincoln Trail in Fairview

Heights is a Halloween specialty store, full of Halloween costume and party supplies.

"Kids love to come in and play and have fun," said Kerri Curry, a salesperson at Johnnie Brock's. "People come in and stay for hours and we encourage people to try things on and touch things and have fun."

Johnnie Brock's offers costumes for all ages.

For the younger kids, Star Wars and Disney characters are popular, as well as the Scream mask from the movie of the same name, Curry said.

"Pokemon has been the number one requested costume, but we have not got them in yet," Curry said.

The store is expected to get the costumes in again before Halloween, Curry said.

'Fight Club' throws punches at the modern male ego

Men lack war or Great Depression to test their manhood

Brad Pitt and Edward Norton in a scene from the Fox 2000 Pictures and Regency Enterprises release, "Fight Club."

Edward Norton works at a humdrum job, logging accidents for an automobile company to determine if a recall is necessary. He appears to have no friends, no family and he can't sleep. To alleviate his malaise, he decides to share other people's pain.

He attends support meetings of disease victims, particularly sufferers of testicular cancer. He discovers another frequenter of the disease meetings — a spike-haired, chain-smoking, enigmatic beauty, Helena Bonham Carter. His attempts at friendship fail.

In a rundown bar, Norton has another fateful encounter. Brad Pitt is a wild-haired, motor mouthed zealot who preaches the downfall of the American male.

He argues that today's male generation has largely been raised by women, that they have lacked a Great

For female pre-teens and teenagers, space girl, genie and belly dancer costumes are popular.

"Basically anything that shows skin is popular with the girls," Curry said.

For pre-teen and teenage males, scary clown costumes and scary rubber masks are the most popular.

For adults, couples costumes are popular, Curry.

"We have a list of costume ideas for couples posted," Curry said.

Some of the ideas include angels and devil, Tarzan and Jane, Zoot Suits and Flappers, and a Priest and Nun.

"It is really cute to see a couple come in and get coordinated costumes," Curry said.

Besides costumes, Johnnie Brock's Dungeon also offers supplies for your Halloween party.

party? You can purchase a coffin and a head stone.

The store also has Halloween music, black and strobe lights, inflatable decorations, and many other things to make your party complete.

Another place to go for Halloween party supplies is Tribut Distributors at 1701 W. Main St. in Belleville.

Tribut Distributors offers a full array of Halloween supplies.

Tribut Distributors also offers an alternative for those who would rather give trick or treaters. The store offers many small toys and trinkets, such as spider rings and football and basketball shaped something rather than candy erasers, which make good Halloween handouts.

2. The movie "Frankenstein" from 1931, as well as many subsequent versions, is based on the novel by what author?

3. In the 1958 release of "The Fly," what phrase does a fly-man trapped in a spider's web keep saying?

4. Who played the parents of the devil child in the 1976 flick "The Omen"?

5. What kind of creatures threaten the humans in 1954's "Them"??

6. The fiend Freddy Krueger was introduced in what 1984 flick?

7. David Naughton, star of "An American Werewolf in London," was probably at least as well known for performing in commercials for what soft drink?

8. What future television star played the title character in "The Thing," from 1951?

9. What is the name of the TV movie from 1975 starring Karen Black that includes a segment with Black being attacked by a small voodoo doll?

10. Who plays the mother of the girl possessed by a demon in "The Exorcist"?

ANSWERS: 1. Fay Wray. 2. Mary Shelley. 3. "Help me." I remember seeing this movie on TV when I was a kid and it disturbing me a great deal. 4. Gregory Peck and Lee Remick. 5. Giant ants. 6. "A Nightmare on Elm Street." 7. Dr. Pepper. He sang the "I drink Dr. Pepper and I'm proud" song. 8. James Arness. 9. "Trilogy of Terror." My friends and I greatly enjoyed this flick. 10. Ellen Burstyn.

Kevin Carbery is affiliated with "The Entertainment and Trivia Show," which is aired Sunday nights on KMOX Radio (1120 AM).

Depression and a war to test their manhood, that they have been brainwashed by corporations that have imposed a consumerist society.

"Things you own end up owning you," he rants.

Norton and other bar patrons are impressed by his message, and he leads them to another level: downstairs to a musty cellar and the Fight Club.

The first rule about the Fight Club, he decrees, is that you never talk about it. That's also the second rule. No wonder he wants to keep it quiet. The club's entertainment: two bare-fisted men batter each other like gladiators until one collapses in bloody defeat.

Perhaps it is postmodern filmmaking, whatever that means. In any case, "Fight Club" remains the ugliest, most inhuman film since "Natural Born Killers."

Pitt has other plans for the Fight Club. He brainwashes the members into zombie-like storm troopers who conduct his campaign against corporate manipulators. At first they play pranks, then they move into urban terrorism. The final plan is apocalyptic.

Needless to say, as "Fight Club" proceeds, it becomes less and less credible. Finally, the viewer is left wondering what in the world this is all about.

Perhaps it is postmodern filmmaking, whatever that

Horoscopes

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20

With the powerful sun, emotion-filled moon and energetic Mercury all deposited in Leo, it's going to take a strong, will to resist a passionate romance today. Venus and Mars in impulsive Cancer are no if you are trying to think of a reason not to be impetuous. Enjoy the ride, play hard and spoil yourself and the ones you love.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 20). You will discover this year that you prefer the life you have now over changes you have considered. Money becomes more stable for you around September and debts could be eliminated altogether. Love looks fantastic in the months of January, March and June. Your best signs for love are Virgo and Capricorn. Your lucky numbers are 2, 19, 39 and 42.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). A family dispute arises from lack of information. Talk about unfulfilled expectations you have regarding a relationship. Romantic relationships take off when you're vulnerable enough to let it happen. don't try to appear too cool.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The joy you get from a relationship is heightened when you stop thinking about every move. An intellectual approach to the job is not necessarily faster or better. Just doing it gets the job done.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Your perfectionism suits you, but don't expect it in others. Expand your education by taking that class. You have a keen interest in hedonistic pursuits, so go for it.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). A movie gives you a new idea for a business venture. Love is met while you are involved with an intellectual pursuit, such as a workshop or speech. Make temporary living situations more permanent.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Need an expert opinion? Ask your friends. You can count on friends to be supportive and objective. A lover could suborindate feelings to thoughts. Encourage others to be themselves around you!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Take your time, and try to be more reflective when making decisions. Pay more attention to yourself, and spend less time concentrating on others. Blunting impulses and suppressing feelings could actually make you ill.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Set your aims high, as this is your day to shine. Others admire your openness to new ideas and willingness to explore opportunities. Help friends come to their own conclusions when they ask you for advice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Relationships will be mutually supportive. Communication levels are improving daily. An investment in yourself will pay off next week. Someone who catches your eye approaches you at a party.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You could have big success with a small business. Computer technology, software and Internet projects have remarkable appeal. In matters of love, do not rush into anything impulsively. Avoid arguments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). The world takes you at your word. Ambition is your best quality. Playing your numbers is not advised. Learn where you stand with a lover. A certain someone glows in your company.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Security in a love relationship comes through an honest conversation. Friends confide in you because they feel your strength. Look beyond the surface to your true emotions concerning a lover.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Family members admire the initiative you have shown. Relatives you thought were set in their ways welcome the new changes in your life. Better relationships develop with a parent, spouse or friend.

Metro East area offers many costume options

Wonder House Costumes at 1801 W. Main St. in Belleville. "We have got everything," said Wonder House owner Mike Chandler.

The Wonder House has more than 1,500 costumes available for rent. "About 95 percent of our customers are adults who are renting," Chandler said.

Rentals are available for children as well, and all rentals average about $20 to $25 in price.

"The most a costume costs to rent is $65, and that is a two-person horse," Chandler said.

Beyond rentals, the Wonder House also offers costume packages for purchase, costume accessories, and Halloween and theatrical makeup. Wonder House is open year round.

"This is our busiest time of the year. It goes like this all the way through Christmas," Chandler said.

Wonder House does free alterations on costumes to ensure a proper fit.

"We can fix you right up until a quarter until five on Halloween," Chandler said. Many of the costumes are homemade by Chandler's wife, Nancy.

"It is a fun time. You get a little tired, but it is a fun time," Chandler said. "You never know what people are going to ask for when they walk through the door."

Want to be a little more constructive or crafty? Then try Joann Fabrics and Crafts at 5 Crossroads Center in Fairview Heights. Joann offers fabric, accessories, costume patterns, costumes and Halloween supplies.

"The most popular are space things, anything you see on TV like cartoon characters," said store manager Teresa Huch. "As far as the little kids go, the Tele-Tubbies are real popular."

No matter if you are looking for the perfect costume or wanting to throw the ultimate party, there are many stores throughout the Metro East to help make your Halloween frightfully good.

'Fight Club' challenges male ego means. In any case, "Fight Club" remains the ugliest, most inhuman film since "Natural Born Killers."

Uhl's wisely tosses off black humor to counter balance the grimness. The funniest moment comes when Norton enacts a heavily dramatic scene, leading to tears. His voiceover: "I would like to thank the Academy ..."

Norton carries a heavy load as narrator and principal actor. The best young actor to appear in years, he meets the challenge. As the super-macho motivator of the dark doings, Pitt conveys a scary presence.

But the relationship between the two men, revealed at the closing, makes no sense.

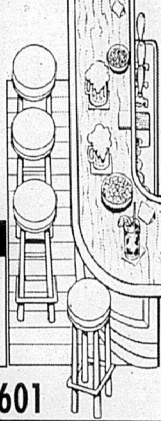

A 20th Century Fox release, "Fight Club" was produced by Art Linson, Cean Chaffin and Ross Grayson Bell. Running time: 140 minutes.
